

Letter From Leahy to Petain is Read at Marshal's Trial

Former Ambassador to Vichy Expresses His Regard for Soldier

Paris, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Adm. William D. Leahy, chief of staff to President Truman, expressed the belief that Marshal Petain always acted in the best interests of France in a letter read today at the treason trial of the old soldier.

As read in court the letter of Leahy, who is attending the Big Three conference at Potsdam, expressed "high regard" for Petain and said he was unable to appear as a witness because of his position.

Leahy had been U. S. ambassador to the Vichy regime of Marshal Petain until the Germans took over the unoccupied portions of France in November, 1942, when North Africa was invaded.

Leahy's letter, dated July 22, was in reply to Petain's request that he return to France as a witness.

The admiral stated that he recalled that on many occasions he had heard Petain express a desire to see the nazis overwhelmed.

After the letter was read, Chief Judge Paul Mongibeaux asserted: "There is one sentence against Petain in that letter."

The defense protested and Mongibeaux did not explain the sentence to which he referred.

Leahy's letter said that while he was ambassador to France "you did, on occasion at my request, take action in opposition to the desires of the axis and favorable to the allied cause."

"On every instance when you failed to accept my recommendations to expose the axis powers by refusing their demands, you stated the reason was that such positive action by you would result in additional oppression of your people by the invaders," the admiral continued.

"I had then, as I have now, the conviction that your principal concern was the welfare and protection of the helpless people of France. It was impossible for me to believe that you had any other concern."

"However, I must in all honesty repeat my opinion, as expressed to you at the time, that positive refusal to make any concessions to axis demands, while it might have brought immediately increased hardship to your people, would in the long view have been advantageous to France."

(It was to this last passage that the judge apparently alluded.)

The old soldier's counsel said that Pierre Laval, described yesterday as Petain's "evil genius," would be summoned as a witness.

Laval Reached Paris

Laval arrived by plane at Le Bourget airfield from the Austrian city of Innsbruck late today and was taken immediately to Fresnes prison, it was announced at the trial.

The former chief of the Vichy government, who surrendered to American authorities in Austria after he was ousted from refuge in Spain yesterday, was accompanied by his wife.

Secrecy had been maintained as to Laval's movement to France because of fears that Frenchmen liberated from nazi horror camps might seek to attack him, a French spokesman said.

the treasury.

Pegler "Broke" Story

It stemmed from a story early in June by columnist Westbrook Pegler that young Roosevelt had borrowed $200,000 in 1933 from John Hartford, president of the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company that the debt was settled three years later for $4,000 by Jesse Jones, then secretary of commerce, and that Hartford listed his loss as a bad debt on his 1932 income tax return.

Pegler wrote that "President Roosevelt knew of the loan and approved it."

General Roosevelt, who reverts to inactive status August 15, said he filed his retirement request May 11, three days after V-E Day.

"I wanted to take part in the fighting against Japan," he added. "Above all else, I still want to do as my duty. The army has no assignment for a reconnaissance officer of my qualifications."

Denies Father Helped

"I have neither the background nor the training for a non-combat assignment, and I certainly have no desire to finish out the war as an arm-chair general."

Roosevelt declared he believes "those millions who loved and respected him have the right to know that Franklin D. Roosevelt never prompted or assisted my personal business affairs. Any statement that he ever did so is a deliberate, infamous lie."

He asked that "any charges concerning my affairs should be confined to me, and that no further attempt be made to smear a man who can't talk back."

150 Attended Christian Church S. S. Picnic at Park

The First Christian church held its annual Sunday school picnic at Lowell park last Sunday, with about 150 members present to enjoy the scramble dinner and the games that followed.

Ice cream was served following dinner and throughout the afternoon. The games committee, consisting of Mrs. Ted Rhodes, Mrs. Winfield Riffle, and Robert Straw, took charge of the afternoon program, which proved very entertaining.

Winners in the various contests were as follows: For children, there were three sack races, won by Richard Jenkins, Tommy Giffrow and Evelyn Jenkins. The penny races were won by Melvin Cann and Jimmy Patch and the shoe race was won by Evelyn Jenkins. The back to back relay was won by Billy Netz and Richard Jenkins.

For the adults, the rolling pin contest was won by Ruth Biggs, and the needle threading contest was won by Morris Wernick. The baby bottle contest was won by Ted Rhodes and Bill Netz, and the eating contest was won by a team consisting of Golda Sunningham, Ruth Biggs, Francis Biggs, Mary Emmert, Lena Netz, Bill Netz, Leona McCordie, and Sue Stauffer. The water carrying contest was won by the team of Ethel Anderson, Ruth Biggs, Leona McCordie, Ora Tice, Winfield Riffle, Gail Stauffer, Leathie Bovey and Mary Netz. The apple eating contest was won by Everett Rooker, Winfield Riffle, Dora Fortna and Ted Rhodes.

Italian Dinner Honors Anniversary

John A. Case, Y-2/c of the United States Navy, and Miss Phyllis Case entertained a host of friends and relatives with an Italian dinner Sunday evening, July 29th, in observance of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Case', twenty-third wedding anniversary.

It proved to be a most delightful evening for all present. The honorees were the recipients of a lovely ninety-five piece set of china ware, and a dozen handsome goblets with best wishes for many future years of happiness.

Physical Check-up Is Most Important; Should Be Done

The Summer Round Up committee of the P. T. A., wishes to issue a final plea to the parents of all students who will enter first grade, fifth grade or first year high school, this fall.

In compliance with a State Health law passed in July, 1944, these students must have a complete physical check up before entering school in September.

The time remaining is short, so it will be greatly appreciated if those who have not taken care of this matter, do so without delay.

LEFFELMAN REUNION AT ROCHELLE, SUNDAY

The tenth annual Leffelman family reunion will be held at the Memorial park at Rochelle, Sunday, Aug. 5th. Leonard A. Leffelman is chairman of the event and all members of the family are expected to be present.

Beulah Bondi, a Visitor at Shimer, Her Alma Mater

Beulah Bondi, well-known motion picture character actress, was a weekend visitor on the campus at Frances Shimer college. Miss Bondi attended Frances Shimer for four years graduating in 1907. This was her first visit to Mount Carroll since her graduation.

While here she had an opportunity to visit two former classmates, Miss A. Beth Hostetter and Miss Mary Miles, both of Mount Carroll.

Dr. Albin C. Bro. president of the college, said Miss Bondi has promised to be on the campus two or three weeks during the coming school year, during which time she will help direct a play.

Her brother, Dr. Raymond Bondy, his wife, and daughter, Marion, of Chicago also were weekend visitors on the campus and in the Ward Weidman home. Marion will enroll at Frances Shimer this fall.

Big Brothers in Annual Picnic at Halquist Cottage

The 'Big Brothers' class of St. Paul's Lutheran church held their annual dinner and picnic at the Halquist cottage Monday night. There were 48 present including members and their families. There were plenty of eats, games, an impromptu program and songs. Mrs. Tobias Sweitzer deserves the prize for outstanding talent in her readings of the evening. The Halquist received rounds of applause for their generous hospitality in provisions of chicken and ice cream. Mr. Halquist is teacher of the class.

'No Coddling for Congressmen,' Rep. Douglas' Motto

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—"No coddling for congressmen," is the motto for Rep. Douglas as she prepares to leave for Europe.

Scheduled to depart Sunday with other members of the house foreign affairs committee, Mrs. Douglas said today she wants an inside view of the war's impact on Europe—and that doesn't include being "coddled because we're congressmen."

She said she hopes the group will be fed exactly what Europeans are eating, then "we'll be able to understand what they will have to face in the hard winter ahead."

"It would be a mistake," she told a reporter, "for a group of well-fed congressmen to invade war-devastated countries, eat up the best they have and be shown only the surface damage."

"If we are going to help them, as we must, we need a real understanding of their problems and conditions."

The Illinois congresswoman, familiar with pre-war Europe through five trips abroad, fears the committee may find the moral damage even greater than the physical devastation.

The hate doctrines—anti-semitism, anti-democracy and others—preached by the nazis will be hard to shed, she predicted.

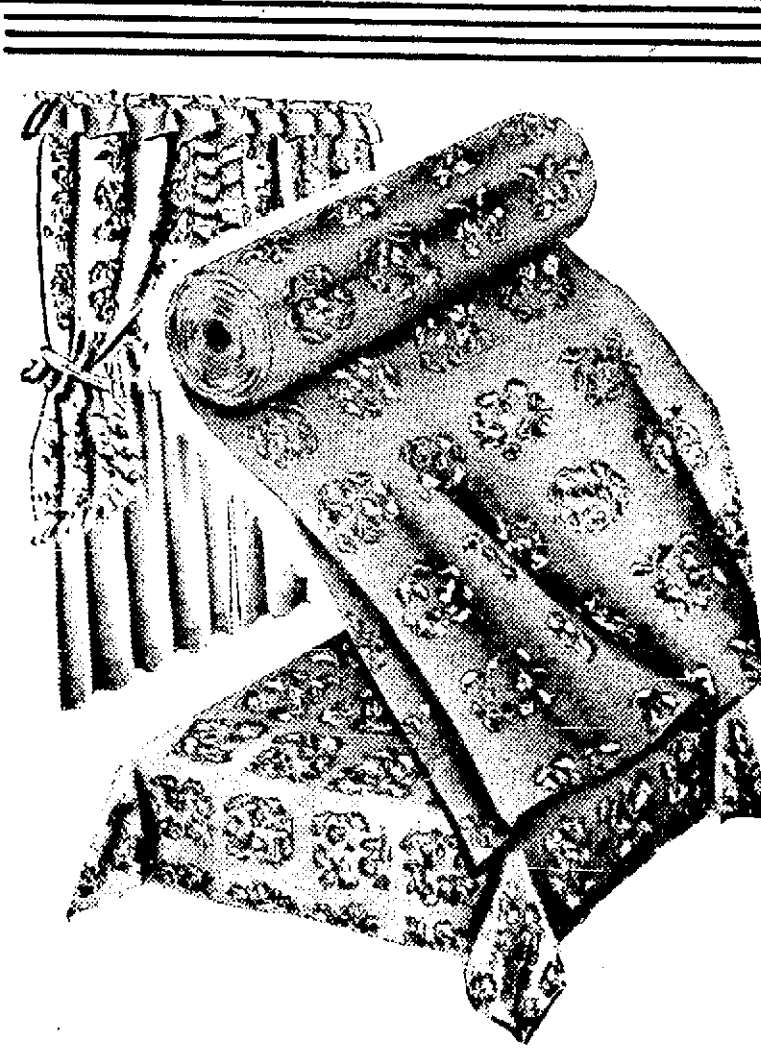

"I regret that OWI funds have been cut," she added, "because Europe needs the voice of America after hearing the voice of nazism for so long."

Government Medicine No Answer
The United States had the largest group of thoroughly trained medical specialists in its entire history at the beginning of World War II. In war service their professional competence, plus the aid of new drugs and modern methods, were largely responsible for the fact that 96.1 per cent of the 1,375,000 wounded in the European theatre were saved.

The nation wishes its citizens and soldiers to have the best possible medical service. In connection with doing this, there are powerful advocates of a compulsory national medical program which would tax wage earners and employers at high rates for funds to support it, regardless of whether or not they desired state medical service.

Those who regard freedom of opportunity as one of the precious assets of America today, deny that government control of medicine is the conclusive answer. Voluntary health insurance plans to provide prepayment for medical service, are already underway and are not a drag on the country's medical proficiency or brilliant progress and research.

"By expanding and improving our public health service, by supporting various group and community systems, and by encouraging private insurance companies to add to the usefulness of their services, the country should find that Federal control of medicine is not necessary to insure a healthy nation," says the Index, quarterly publication of the New York Trust Company. "Historically the experience of foreign countries provides no evidence to the contrary."

Ahead of the Times
About the time the general public comes to the conclusion that the good old days are gone forever, that high costs will prevent expansion, and that it will be necessary for a benevolent government to look after all its unemployed citizens, industry comes along with some new and helpful plans which upset the pessimist's appreciation. As evidence of this, the possibility of a postwar building boom has stimulated interest in improved building codes throughout the country, according to a report just issued by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.
While the public has feared the cost of building will be so high after the war that the average man cannot hope to own a home,
the National Board cites that "predictions are widely made that

Enough

New York — In some recent bursts of perturbation about the decline of baseball among our sprouts and the failure of the soulless corporations of the major leagues to do anything about it, I detect a sad and desperate admission that the game, itself, is outmoded. I am as unhappy about this as Bill Corum, the sportswriter, and Babe Ruth, who recently joined him in a rather confused complaint against evolution but,
as one who has seen the rise and fall of the street car, the family picnic, the phonograph and pyrography, I lay no blame and accept change.

Baseball is a game that requires a coincidence of convenience, interest and facilities that is seldom possible these days. You must have at least a dozen boys for even a pick-up game and at least five for one-old-cat, which latter is only a tantalizing ersatz devised by the kids of two generations ago to feed their appetite for baseball with a weak imitation.
For a real game at least 15
hands are required to do the playing and one to umpire and actually there should be a pinch hitter or reserve player or two of them on each side. That means that this many kids must be able to bring themselves together at an appointed time and place and most of us remember that our teams usually showed up short-handed because the catcher's mother needed him to hang out the wash or the first baseman had to get dressed up in his Sunday suit and go across town to visit his grandmother. And often the contests were unevenly decided because someone absolutely had to be home for supper at 6, or just at the start of the eighth inning, and so walked off, possibly taking with him the best glove, mitt or bat on his side or, worst of all, the ball.

When I was writing sports, it took me a long time to admit to myself that tennis was a stout game because when I was little it was played exclusively by the somewhat well-to-do and in white pants at that, and because they would sing out that word "love," which seemed inappropriate not to say effeminate.

My respect for tennis was a postwar houses embodying materials now generally unknown, will be fabricated in greater quantities in factories so that they can be quickly assembled on the building site. Unbelievably low costs to purchasers are talked about.
"The Chamber of Commerce of the United States is on record advising cities to restrict their building codes. It is hoped that provision may be made to take advantage of technological advances resulting from the war effort and the availability of new building materials which are in the process of development. Lower building costs with the same promise of safety are in prospect."
The insurance industry is seeking to keep abreast of the times
by having building codes in various cities perfected so as to calculate construction along safe lines which will assure the lowest possible insurance cost.

EXT. ARCHER HOME—FRONT DOOR
Mrs. Pringle, already licking her chops, is waiting at the door.
Louise opens it for her and is obviously somewhat surprised to see her. Mrs. Pringle whispers in.
MRS. PRINGLE: Good afternoon, Louise. Is Mrs. Archer home?
LOUISE: She went to pick up
Mr. Archer.
INT. PORCH
Corliss is trying to peek into the hall. We hear the approaching footsteps and voices of Mrs.
Pringle and Louise.
LOUISE'S VOICE: (o s.) She ought to be back in a few minutes, Mrs. Pringle.
MRS. PRINGLE: That's fine,
Louise. I'll wait on the porch.
Corliss hastily darts away from the door. Mrs. Pringle comes in.
Louise goes on into the kitchen.
Corliss promptly assumes a very nonchalant manner.
CORLISS: Oh hello, Mrs.
Pringle. I'm so sorry you have to wait. Mum ought to be back any minute.
MRS. PRINGLE: (ever so sweetly) That's all right, Corliss. How've you been?
CORLISS: (politely) Fine,
thanks—and you?
MRS. PRINGLE: I'm fine, thank you.
She subjects Corliss to a withering once-over. Somewhat unheeded, Corliss sits down.
CORLISS: (casually) How's Mildred?
MRS. PRINGLE: (ever so gently) Darling, you did that very well—but you don't have to pretend with me. I know that you and Mildred are seeing each other all the time.

EXT. ARCHER HOME—DRIVE-WAY
(The Archer sedan has just pulled up.)

Today is Air Force Day—officially proclaimed by President Truman to celebrate the 38th anniversary of the U. S. Army Signal Corps order, on Aug. 1, 1907, creating a Division of Aeronautics "to study the flying machine and the possibility of adapting it to military purposes." The new division started with one captain and two enlisted men—and has grown into the present Army Air Force comprising more than 2,300,000 officers and men. Symbolizing this amazing growth is the montage above, with (bottom photo) Orville and Wilbur Wright demonstrating their first plane at Fort Myer, Va., for B. D. Fouois and Lt. Frank P. Lahm, contrasted with the giant B-29 Superfortresses above.

grudging concession to the magnificent playing of Bill Tilden, whom I came to recognize as one of the greatest athletes that the world has ever seen, after I had watched him play more than two hours in that over at Forest Hills and even being along great opponents to the match point in championship play, apparently he deliberate intention, and then had their ears off.
It was about this time too, or just after the other war that golf moved to the other side of the tracks or the kids from the wrong side crossed over and invaded the golf courses.
In Britain, members of the lower classes had played proficiently and held the bag championships but they were still regarded as societal inferiors and classed among the help. But when our Gene Garzaen won in Chicago he brought to our golf a character and personality which could not be fo-rated by wealth and his manners when he was on his manners were as good as those of any gentleman on the roster of the club membership because the boy was a gentleman himself.
Not many of the members were really gentlemen though and when men tried to impose on Gene who were merely well-to-do bores he never pulled a fore-lock in the manner of the British pro but stood them down in scenes which sometimes made the paying member fear that the lower orders were getting out of hand.

We were becoming acquainted with two games here in which the convenience of only two players had to coincide. Two could play tennis and, it came to that, a boy or man could golf alone. I could get impressive about here by pointing out that by the device of the handicap, which gave a terrible dub a chance against a star, we injected our thinking with the idea, since exploited by the new deal, that superior men should be penalized so that those of inferior ability or without the gumption to strive for excellence might enjoy equal rewards and privileges. But then you might call me a tactless idiot and I don't want to argue that today.
I don't see what the major league magnates could do about teaching baseball among the young or why they should do anything, except as a selfish, commercial project. They didn't have to do anything to interest Bill Corum or the Babe or me in baseball when we were very young.

In our town we didn't even have a class C team and the town ball club was supported by a hat collection taken about the seventh inning. This money paid for the uniforms, or suits as they were called, and bought a few balls and paid the expenses of the club from the next town meeting. I suppose, a keg of beer and the hire of the local expressman's truck and team to bring them over and back.
It was customary in those unorganized relations to guarantee the visiting club from two to five dollars a man and I believe the home club got about the same out of a kitty raised by the local merchants, to which the saloonkeepers were
the best contributors as, indeed, they were to most worthy civic movements, from which, naturally, Exclude the W. C. T. U.
Thirty-two years ago, our sports pages, even in big cities, carried as a regular feature a column of challenges by clubs which rated themselves by age and, as a rule, of pride often specified that they would accept games only with "untrained" teams. We also printed hundreds of results on Mondays, some of which I am amused were falsified by the amateur press representatives of teams which had not won but lost.
Often the games wound up in fights and every boy learned early that it was up to him to guard his own glove and to keep a sharp eye on his bat as the game drew to a close.
Frank's baseball love it though you may, is a complex game requiring more organization and enthusiasm than boys to day are willing to give it. To simplify it and get more action in a limited time, Father Edward Dowling, S. J., when he was in the seminary, invented a telescope version of three innings of nine outs per inning and that was an affectionate criticism.
Regular baseball dragged and they wanted to play all the ball they could in an hour, not waste precious minutes changing sides.

Yankees Only Club Able to Hold Dave Ferriss From Wins

McCarthy Men Hand Boo Three of Four Losses Suffered This Year

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Nobody can convince Dave Ferriss that the New York Yankees are just a shadow of the old murderer's row and the rookie of the year have evidence to back up his case.

The spectacular Boston Red Sox freshman has lost only four games while winning 17 but three of his setbacks were at the hands of the New Yorkers.

When the discharged air force veteran broke into the league with eight straight triumphs, including a 5-0 shutout of the Yanks, the writers went scurrying for the record books to excavate matching deeds. But Joe McCarthy's clan put an end to the search by knocking him off the pedestal, 3-2, on a rainy Sunday afternoon in June.

Shrugged Off Loss
Ferriss at the time shrugged off the loss as "one of those things," recalling he had lost games in the Piedmont League and he'd lose plenty more up in the big tent.

Next time the husky righthander came up against the Yanks he was slugged off the hill, the only time he has been kayoed in 20 starts, and soundly drubbed, 14-4, by Walter Dubiel.

The prize rookie had lost only once since and Dubiel hadn't beaten a soul since that June 21 day until yesterday when they again clashed at Fenway Park. Ferriss wasn't knocked out or even close but the New York team combed him for 10 hits, four by Tucker Stainback, and edged him out in 10 innings, 4-2.

Hal Newhouser pulled up even with Ferriss at the 17-win pole by turning back the champion St. Louis Browns in 12 heats, 5-4. Jimmy Outlaw's single with the bases loaded scored the lefthander who had led off the third overtime inning with a single. The Bengals came from behind twice to trim Sig Jakucki.

Redskins Scalp Sox
Cleveland moved into fifth place by notching its seventh triumph in the last eight starts, nosing out Chicago, 6-5, in a night game.

Superb relief chucking by Pete Center who picked up his fourth successive decision without defeat, lifted the Indians up past the White Sox in the league standings and within a game and a half of the first division.

Washington and Philadelphia were washed out of a two-night doubleheader after a Buddy Lewis celebration had been climaxed by presentation of a $500 war bond to the Senators' star, back from four years of service in the air corps. They will play two tonight.

Boston's new manager Del Bissone, got his first taste of the troubles that caused Bob Coleman to resign as the Boston Braves sank to their 10th straight defeat by bowing to the New York Giants, 4-3, in the first game of a doubleheader. Relief pitcher Mort Cooper walked three men in a row to force in the tying run before Phil Weintraub broke it up. The nightcap threatened to be a similar story when the Giants rallied to tie in the ninth but the Braves snapped out of it with five in the 13th to grab a 9-1 even break.

Walters Whips Cards
St. Louis missed a chance to regain second place by losing to Cincinnati's Bucky Walters 2-0 in the second game after grabbing the opener, 4-3 as Al Jurisich pitched his first complete game and initial victory of the campaign. The nightcap was a repetition of the 1944 story when Walters beat the Cards six times, four by shutouts. He lost his two previous starts to the champs this year.

Brooklyn and the Phillies were rained out of a doubleheader and Pittsburgh and Chicago were not scheduled.

Titan Hanover Only Favorite for Classic

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Titan Hanover, the undefeated three-year-old trotter owned by E. Roland Harriman and Capt. Elbridge Gerry, today is considered about the closest approach to a sure thing for the Aug. 8 running of the classic Hambletonian.
The crack son of Calumet Chuck soundly whipped the best of his division in the $9,000 National Trot, pep race for the Harness Derby, at Bill Cane's Good Time Park yesterday. The purse boosted his earnings to around $32,000.

With Harry Pownall handling the reins, the bay colt romped through his first elimination heat in 2:05½ beating W. N. Reynolds' Reylend by three lengths. The second division race was taken by Octave Blake's Axomite with Lt. Col. Dunbar Bostwick's Kimberly Hanover second. In the final mile, Titan Hanover whipped Bostwick's filly by two lengths in 2:05¾.

Another undefeated horse, Leo McNamara's True Chief, chalked up his 23rd and 24th straight heat victories by taking the $3,000 National Pace for three-year-olds in 2:06¾ and 2:06¼.

Games Last Night:

Zeien and Kerly played to a tie until the game had to be called because of darkness. . . . the score, 21 to 21, was due to the hitting of several of the players, who hit safely every time up. . . . Jackie Zeien hit the only round tripper of the game, in the fifth inning.

Only one other game was recorded in play, in which Richard Boos and his team swept to an 8 to 3 victory over the Leonard team from the north side. . . . this win puts the Boos team in the top spot in the 12-year league. . . . Memier forfeited to Fish, and in a practice game, Fish took the north side, 18 to 4. . . . The Lincoln Hot Shots have been undefeated all season, and last night retained their unmarred slate with a forfeit victory over Kerly of the north side. . . . Potter's north side club had to forfeit to Gibson's St. Mary's team, Sprout forfeited to Knutson, and McLean forfeited to Leggett. . . . in a practice game, the McLean outfit handed an 13 to 9 whipping to the Leggett outfit.

In the cross-river tournaments, the south side seems to hold the edge by quite a large margin. . . . In the games played, the south side holds a good margin of victories over the "Gold Coasters".

The old-timers have added a new face to their growing list of players. . . . Sgt. Lou Bevilacqua, home from the wars, who has been one of the very few big timers in baseball from Dixon, has been signed on as a catcher for the old timers. . . . Earl Page, who is on his way home, should arrive in time for the last two games. . . . if the old timers keep picking up servicemen for their team, they won't have many pudge, out-of-condition players left, and probably be able to whip the high school stand hands down. . . . as things stand at present, we would like to take a stab at some of the attempted winner picking, and pick the old-timers by five runs. . . . that is only if they hold out for the full seven innings.

Illinois coach, Ray Elliot, who has just been named to the All-Star coaching staff, has been handing out high praise over the selection of Lt. Condr. Bert Ingversen to help out Tony Blazine as line coach for the Illini. . . . Elliot thinks that after the war, he will have a staff that will be hard to beat anywhere.

Two Jims—(Delayed)—The field radio in the battalion command post buzzed, and the operator reported:

"G Company has made eight first downs."

A few minutes later, the journal was corrected to show:

"A touchdown for F Company."

It wasn't a football game. Instead, it was the deadly serious battle for two Jims, 750 miles from Tokyo, the toughest job tackled by the Marine Corps in its history.

It was also Maj. Frank E. Garretson's own way of confusing the Japanese.

Maj. Garretson, former gridiron star, for Washington university, devised the plan during the battle for Hill 322 when Marine gains were measured in yards over a period of more than a week. A 10-yard gain was scored as a first down; 100 yards as a touchdown.

"The Japs," he explained, "know a lot about baseball, but few of them know anything about football. So I figured this one out, and it worked throughout the battle."

Kessler Field, Miss., has 72 teams in sports competition that involves almost 600 players. Add 'em up—there are 40 softball teams, ten baseball nines, and 22 volleyball sextets. That's a minimum total of 356 individual participants and many of the squads will carry extra players.

One of the most comprehensive plans for league play has been worked out and the Athletic Department, working in conjunction with various committees, will administer the

Detweiler Places Second in Big Foot Golf Invitational

Ken Detweiler, local amateur golfer, who has done some beautiful shooting on many links around this part of the country, was in Wisconsin last Sunday in a Big Foot Country Club Invitational golf match. A large field of more than 50 players participated in the big event, which was held near Lake Geneva.

After all but two players had been eliminated, Detweiler and Capt. George Reed, of the Army Air Forces, were the two remaining. Their 36 hole play off was a close, hard-fought match all the way, and finally ended in a tie, with each man chopping out a 155 score. The local star had had the match sewed up, with only a 20-inch putt necessary for the victory. He blew the putt, and the two went into the 37th hole.

Use "Sudden Death"
All extra holes are played in "sudden death", which means simply that the lowest scorer in the first hole wins.

Captain Reed teed off first with a bad slice, following which Detweiler smacked one straight down the middle. On the next stroke, however, Reed chipped onto the green within three feet of the cup. He holed out with a birdie, with Detweiler shooting a four for second place.

A standout in golf, Detweiler won the Lincoln Highway golf tournament this year, besides placing in several invitational matches. His shooting around this territory has set a fine record for other golfers to shoot for.

Hey Edges Schroeder in Country Club Match

The Dixon country club continued their weekly dinner matches last night with Dean Hey and Ralph Schroeder as captains. The Hey outfit nosed out the opposition 327 to 331, behind the shooting of Ken Detweiler, Wally Elftson, Gene Barrowman, Joe Segar, Dwight Hartzell, Al Nelson, and Eldon Myers. The Schroeder team was made up of Joe Miller, Floyd Smith, Wilson Dysart, Don Raymond, Lee Shoaf, Abe Osbourne, Joe Goldenberger and Leo Miller.

Come Sunday the local squad meets the Sterling crew from Rock River here in Dixon. General sports chairman Joe Miller urges that all members turn out and that they be ready to play promptly at 8:30.

AUTOMOTIVE HINT

If the cables leading to spark plugs loosen in the sockets of the distributor head, a few drops of mercury to each socket will assure a good contact, mercury being a good conductor of electricity.

More men—in khaki today—will be taking to the greens when the war is over than ever before predicts S/Sgt. Pat Abbott, western amateur duration champion, who is a radio student in Sq. P. now. And Pat should know because he himself has started more than 1,000 GIs to taking an interest in golf.

At Lowry Field, Colo., where until recently he was associated with the convalescent training program, Abbott developed an indoor driving range that proved a great morale lifter as well as a physical aid to patients.

Cubs Favorites to Hold Pennant Lead for Rest of Season

Chicago, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The super-charged Chicago Cubs, who have "Borowy'd" new strength, appear favored by the schedule-makers to head the National League parade the remaining two months of the season.

The Bruins wind up one of their most successful home stands in several years today and tomorrow against the Pittsburgh Pirates, but a 21-game road trip they begin Friday should cause them no worry.

The jaunt pits them against the Cincinnati Reds whom they have trounced 13 times in 13 starts this season, and Boston, Philadelphia, Brooklyn and New York who contributed 13 victories in 16 starts to the Cubs on their last eastern swing.

Borowy Big Help
Aided by Hank Borowy, whose acquisition from the New York Yankees continues to mystify and rattle the rest of the majors, the Cubs would have to do an unexpected tail-spin to dissipate their current six-game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers.

The World Champion Red Birds, incidentally, don't come to grips with the Cubs until Aug. 24. When they invade Wrigley Field for a three game series. Whatever the pennant scramble may resemble then, the Cubs still will have an excellent chance to make championship hay in the season-closing month of September.

In the final month, the Cubs play 24 of their 32 scheduled contests at home, including four games with the Dodgers, Sept. 15 through 17, and a pair with the Cardinals, Sept. 25 and 26.

In their current home stand, the Cubs won 16 and lost four, while a game with Brooklyn was suspended in the eighth inning with the Dodgers ahead, 10-4.

Expect Head Coach to be Named for All Stars

Chicago, Aug. 1.—(AP)—A head coach was expected to be named tomorrow to direct activities of the College All-Stars who meet the Green Bay Packers, National Football League champions, at Soldier Field Aug. 30. The fourth assistant coach, Ray Rhot of the University of Illinois, was named yesterday. He joins Jeff Cravath of Southern California, Howie Odell of Yale and Jim Lookabaugh of Oklahoma A. & M. on the All-Star staff.

Feller Loses First Major League Meeting

Great Lakes, Ill., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Bob Feller, the former Cleveland Indian fireball star who took over management of the Great Lakes Naval Training team last spring, and did a lot of pitching for it yesterday lost his first game to a major league team when the Pittsburgh Pirates hopped on him for three runs in the tenth inning for a 3-0 victory. Feller gave up 10 hits and struck out 10.

Art Cuccurullo held the sailors to five hits as they lost their fifth game in 26 starts.

BY TED MEIER (Pinch hitting for Hugh Fullerton, Jr.)

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The advice of husband's new commissioner "Happy" Chandler for players to stay away from all forms of gambling seems to have fallen on deaf ears—many big leaguers still enjoy an off day by going to a race track and betting a few bucks on some nag.

Col. Eddie Eagan, chairman of the New York Athletic Commission, and the man responsible for the "no draw" ruling for New York fights, headed for bigger things?

TODAY'S GUEST STARS

Bill Dooley, Philadelphia Record—Larry MacPhail was right when he said Clark Griffith wouldn't spend $100,000 for a ball player with the Queen Mary thrown in. However, to give the peso-pinching pupu his dues, I think he would if they also threw in Standard Oil.

CLEANING THE CUFF

Phil Weintraub, Giants' first baseman, changed jeers to cheers in less than five minutes yesterday. His error in the top of the ninth in the first game let the Boston Braves take a 3 to 2 lead—his single with the bases full in the last of the ninth won the game—The new coach of the AAF Training Command football team, Major Doug Fessenden, ex-Montanary, lives in room 4-F in a Fort Worth hotel.

A Thought for Today

A wrathful man stirreth up strife; but he that is slow to anger appeaseth strife.—Proverbs 15:1.

A man deep-wounded may feel too much pain to feel much anger.—George Eliot.

Government Medicine No Answer

The United States had the largest group of thoroughly trained medical specialists in its entire history at the beginning of World War II. In war service their professional competence, plus the aid of new drugs and modern methods, were largely responsible for the fact that 96.1 per cent of the 1,375,000 wounded in the European theatre were saved.

The nation wishes its citizens and soldiers to have the best possible medical service. In connection with doing this, there are powerful advocates of a compulsory national medical program which would tax wage earners and employers at high rates for funds to support it, regardless of whether or not they desired state medical service.

Those who regard freedom of opportunity as one of the precious assets of America today, deny that government control of medicine is the conclusive answer. Voluntary health insurance plans to provide prepayment for medical service, are already underway and are not a drag on the country's medical proficiency or brilliant progress and research.

"By expanding and improving our public health service, by supporting various group and community systems, and by encouraging private insurance companies to add to the usefulness of their services, the country, should find that Federal control of medicine is not necessary to insure a healthy nation," says the Index, quarterly publication of the New York Trust Company. "Historically the experience of foreign countries provides no evidence to the contrary."

Abreast of the Times

At about the time the general public comes to the conclusion that the good old days are gone for ever, that high costs will prevent expansion, and that it will be necessary for a benevolent government to look after all its unemployed citizens, industry comes along with some new and helpful plans which upset the pessimist's appraisal. As evidence of this, the possibility of a postwar building boom has stimulated interest in improved building codes throughout the country, according to a report just issued by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

While the public has feared the cost of building will be so high after the war that the average man cannot hope to own a home, the National Board cites that "predictions are widely made that

Fair Enough

by Westbrook Pegler

New York — In some recent blunts of perturbation about the decline of baseball among our sprouts and the failure of the soulless corporations of the major leagues to do anything about it, I detected a sad and desperate admission that the game, itself, is outmoded. I am as unhappy about this as Bill Corum, the sportswriter, and Babe Ruth, who recently joined him in a rather confused complaint against evolution but, as one who has seen the rise and fall of the street car, the family picnic, the phonograph and pyrography, I lay no blame and accept change.

Baseball is a game that requires a coincidence of convenience, interest and facilities that is seldom possible these days. You must have at least a dozen boys for even a pick-up game and at least five for one-old-cat, which latter is only a tantalizing ersatz devised by the kids of two generations ago to feed their appetite for baseball with a weak imitation.

For a real game at least 18 hands are required to do the playing and one to umpire and actually there should be a pinch hitter or reserve player or two of them on each side. That means that this many kids must be able to bring themselves together at an appointed time and place and most of us remember that our teams usually showed up short-handed because the catcher's mother needed him to hang out the wash or the first baseman had to get dressed up in his Sunday suit and go across town to visit his grandmother. And often the contests were unevenly decided because someone absolutely had to be home for supper at 6, or just at the start of the eighth inning, and so walked off, possibly talking with him the best glove, mitt or bat on his side or, worst of all, the ball.

When I was writing sports, it took me a long time to admit to myself that tennis was a stout game because when I was little it was played exclusively by the somewhat well-to-do and in white pants at that, and because they would sing out that word "love," which seemed inappropriate not to say effeminate.

My respect for tennis was a postwar houses embodying materials now generally unknown, will be fabricated in greater quantities in factories so that they can be quickly assembled on the building site. Unbelievably low costs to purchasers are talked about.

"The Chamber of Commerce of the United States is on record advising cities to resurvey their building codes. It is hoped that provision may be made to take advantage of technological advances resulting from the war effort and the availability of new building materials which are in the process of development. Lower building costs with the same promise of safety are in prospect."

The insurance industry is seeking to keep abreast of the times by having building codes in various cities perfected so as to facilitate construction along safe lines which will assure the lowest possible insurance cost.

Salute the Army Air Force

Today is Air Force Day—officially proclaimed by President Truman to celebrate the 38th anniversary of the U. S. Army Signal Corps order, on Aug. 1, 1907, creating a Division of Aeronautics "to study the flying machine and the possibility of adapting it to military purposes." The new division started with one captain and two enlisted men—and has grown into the present Army Air Force comprising more than 2,300,000 officers and men. Symbolizing this amazing growth is the montage above, with (bottom photo) Orville and Wilbur Wright demonstrating their first plane at Fort Myer, Va., for B. D. Fouros and Lt. Frank P. Lahm, contrasted with the giant B-29 Superfortresses above.

grudging concession to the magnificent playing of Bill Tilden, whom I came to recognize as one of the greatest athletes that the world has ever seen, after I had watched him play more than two hours in that open at Forest Hills and even bring along great opponents to the match point in championship play, apparently by deliberate intention, and then bat them ears off.

It was about this time, too, or just after the other war, that golf moved to the other side of the tracks or the kids from the wrong side crossed over and invaded the golf courses.

In Britain, members of the lower classes had played proficiently and held the big championships but they were still regarded as social inferiors and classed among the help. But when our Gene Sarazen won in Chicago he brought to our golf a character and personality which could not be tolerated by wealth and his manners, when he was on his manners, were as good as those of any gentleman on the roster of the club membership because the boy was a gentleman himself.

Not many of the members were really gentlemen though and when men tried to impose on Gene who were merely well-to-do bores he never pulled a fore-lock in the manner of the British pro but stood them down in scenes which sometimes made the paying members fear that the lower orders were getting out of hand.

We were becoming acquainted with two games here in which the convenience of only two players had to concede. Two could play tennis and, it came to that, a boy or man could golf alone. I could get impressive about here by pointing out that by the device of the handicap, which gave a terrible dub a chance against a star, we entered our thinking with the idea, since exploited by the new deal, that superior men should be penalized so that those of inferior ability or without the gumption to strive for excellence might enjoy equal rewards and privileges. But then you might call me a fascist and I don't want to argue that today.

I don't see what the major league magnates could do about reviving baseball among the young or why they should do anything, except as a selfish, commercial project. They didn't have to do anything to interest Bill Corum or the Babe or me in baseball when we were very young.

In our town we didn't even have a class C team and the town ball club was supported by a hat collection taken about the seventh inning. This money paid for the uniforms, or suits, as they were called, and bought a few balls and paid the expenses of the club from the next town, meaning, I suppose, a keg of beer and the hire of the local expressman's truck and team to bring them over and back.

It was customary in those unorganized relations to guarantee the visiting club from two to five dollars a man and I believe the home club got about the same out of it. Kitten raised by the local merchants, to which the saloonkeepers were the best contributors as, indeed, they were to most worthy civic movements from which, naturally, I exclude the W. C. T. U.

Thirty-five years ago, our sports pages even in big cities, carried as a regular feature a column of challenges by clubs which rated themselves by size and as a matter of pride often specified that they would accept games only with "unimpaired" teams. We also printed hundreds of results on Mondays, some of which I am afraid were falsified by the amateur press representatives of teams which had not won but lost. Often the games wound up in fights and every boy learned early that it was up to him to guard his own glove and to keep a sharp eye on his bat as the game drew to a close.

Frankly baseball has it though you may, is a complex game requiring more organization and enthusiasm than boys today are willing to give it. To simplify it and get more action in a limited time, Father Edward Dowling, S. J., when he was in the seminary, invented a telescope version of three innings of nine outs per inning and that was an affectionate criticism. Regular baseball dragged and they wanted to play all the ball they could in an hour, not waste precious minutes changing sides.

Dancing Demon

Kansas City—(AP)—Maybe most demons would enjoy a hot foot but this one didn't. He danced and howled until rescued by police from a roof, blistering hot under a mid-day sun.

When his caretaker, Miss Marie Fleming, returned home she found "Demon", a black Scottie, kicking his parboiled foot pads in the shady front yard.

Lodges

I. O. O. M.—Dixon Moose lodge, No. 727 last Thursday initiated a fine class of candidates, the Rockford degree staff and quartet officiating. Many guests were present from out of town. Auditor George Theiss was the principal speaker in the absence of Regional Director Meyer's failure to be present. A beautiful basket of flowers was presented to the lodge by Mrs. W. A. Frey, the class of candidates being initiated in honor of her husband whom she presented with a bouquet of roses. The lodge has received a fine moose head which has hung in the Dixon public library for several years and will very soon grace the new club rooms, which are now open to the membership but remain closed on Sundays. Membership Director Arthur C. Kretzinger will remain in Dixon indefinitely, the lodge remaining under his supervision. The next large class will be initiated Sept. 12, the event honoring Dixon lodge's 34th anniversary.

V. F. W.—A regular meeting of Horace F. Ort post, No. 540, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary will be held Thursday evening at the Vets club. After the post meeting Pup Tent, Dec. 7, Military Order of Cooties will hold a meeting. ## EXT. ARCHER HOME—FRONT DOOR

Mrs. Pringle, already licking her chops, is waiting at the door. Louise opens it for her and is obviously somewhat surprised to see her. Mrs. Pringle sweeps in.

MRS. PRINGLE: Good afternoon, Louise. Is Mrs. Archer home?

LOUISE: She went to pick up Mr. Archer.

INT. PORCH MED. SHOT

Corliss is trying to peek into the hall. We hear the approaching footsteps and voices of Mrs. Pringle and Louise.

LOUISE'S VOICE: (o s) She ought to be back in a few minutes, Mrs. Pringle.

MRS. PRINGLE: That's fine, Louise. I'll wait on the porch. Corliss hastily darts away from the door. Mrs. Pringle comes in. Louise goes on into the kitchen. Corliss promptly assumes a very nonchalant manner.

CORLISS: Oh hello, Mrs. Pringle. I'm so sorry you have to wait. Mum ought to be back any minute.

MRS. PRINGLE: (ever so sweetly) That's all right, Corliss. How've you been?

CORLISS: (politely) Fine, thanks—and you?

MRS. PRINGLE: I'm fine, thank you.

She subjects Corliss to a withering once-over. Somewhat unnerved, Corliss sits down.

CORLISS: (casually) How's Mildred?

MRS. PRINGLE: (ever so gently) Darling, you did that very well—but you don't have to pretend with me. I know that you and Mildred are seeing each other all the time.

EXT. ARCHER HOME—DRIVE-WAY

The Archer sedan has just pulled into the driveway. Mrs. Archer gets out, carrying a few packages. Mr. Archer dumps onto the driveway a large bag of fertilizer, his nose in the air and breathing a disgusted "Phew." Louise appears at the back door and beckons urgently to them.

LOUISE: (tealily whisper) Mrs. Pringle's here!

INT. KITCHEN

Mrs. Archer precedes her husband into the kitchen, looking at Louise in a puzzled way.

MRS. ARCHER: (surprised whisper) Mrs. Pringle?

Louise nods.

MR. ARCHER: (very audibly) Wonder what the devil she wants?

MRS. ARCHER: (shushing him) Harry! Shhh! She'll hear you!

INT. PORCH MED. SHOT

A moment later the Archers enter the porch.

MR. ARCHER: (gruffly) Hello, Dorothy. What's on your mind?

MRS. ARCHER: (coolly polite) Louise said you wanted to see me.

MRS. PRINGLE: (enjoying herself) That's right.

MRS. ARCHER: Corliss dear—will you go to your room, please.

Corliss crosses obediently towards the stairs.

MRS. PRINGLE: Oh, don't send her out of the room on my account. It's about her that I've come to see you.

Corliss, all ears, has paused at the foot of the stairs.

MRS. ARCHER: (quietly) Corliss, go up to your room, please.

CORLISS: Yes, Mother.

Obediently, but with obvious reluctance, she goes up the stairs and her bedroom door is heard closing.

Yankees Only Club Able to Hold Dave Ferriss From Wins

McCarthy Men Hand Boo Three of Four Losses Suffered This Year

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Nobody can convince Dave Ferriss that the New York Yankees are just a shadow of the old murderer's row and the rookie of the year have evidence to back up his case.

The spectacular Boston Red Sox freshman has lost only four games while winning 17 but three of his setbacks were at the hands of the New Yorkers.

When the discharged air force veteran broke into the league with eight straight triumphs, including a 5-0 shutout of the Yankees, the writers went scurrying for the record books to excavate matching deeds. But Joe McCarthy's clan put an end to the search by knocking him off the pedestal, 3-2, on a rainy Sunday afternoon in June.

Shrugged Off Loss

Ferriss at the time shrugged off the loss as "one of those things," recalling he had lost games in the Piedmont League and he'd lose lots more up in the big tent.

Next time the husky righthander came up against the Yanks he was slugged off the hill, the only time he has been kayoed in 20 starts, and soundly drubbed, 14-4, by Walter Dubiel.

The prize rookie had lost only once since and Dubiel hadn't beaten a soul since that June 21 day until yesterday when they again clashed at Fenway Park. Ferriss wasn't knocked out or even close but the New York team combed him for 10 hits, four by Tucker Stainback, and edged him out in 10 innings, 4-2.

Hal Newhouser pulled up even with Ferriss at the 17-win pole by turning back the champion St. Louis Browns in 12 heats, 5-4. Jimmy Outlaw's single with the bases loaded scored the lefthander who had led off the third overtime inning with a single. The Bengals came from behind twice to trim Sig Jakucki.

Redskins Scalp Sox

Cleveland moved into fifth place by notching its seventh triumph in the last eight starts, nosing out Chicago, 6-5, in a night game. Superb relief chucking by Pete Center who picked up his fourth successive decision without defeat, lifted the Indians up past the White Sox in the league standings and within a game and a half of the first division.

Washington and Philadelphia were washed out of a two-night doubleheader after a Buddy Lewis celebration had been climaxed by presentation of a $500 war bond to

the Senators' star, back from four years of service in the air corps. They will play two tonight.

Boston's new manager Del Bossett, got his first taste of the troubles that caused Bob Coleman to resign as the Boston Braves sank to their 10th straight defeat by bowing to the New York Giants, 4-3, in the first game of a doubleheader. Relief pitcher Mort Cooper walked three men in a row to force in the tying run before Phil Weintraub roke it up. The nightcap threatened to be a similar story when the Giants rallied to tie in the ninth but the Braves snapped out of it with five in the 13th to grab a 9-4 even break.

Walters Whips Cards

St. Louis missed a chance to regain second place by losing to Cincinnati's Bucky Walters 2-0 in the second game after grabbing the opener, 4-3 as Al Jurisich pitched his first complete game and initial victory of the campaign. The nightcap was a repetition of the 1944 story when Walters beat the Cards six times, four by shutouts. He loc his two previous starts to the champs this year.

Brooklyn and the Phillies were rained out of a doubleheader and Pittsburgh and Chicago were not scheduled.

Titan Hanover Only Favorite for Classic

Goshen, N. Y., Aug. 1—(AP)—Titan Hanover, the undefeated three-year-old trotter owned by E. Roland Harriman and Capt. Elbridge Gerry, today is considered about the closest approach to a sure thing for the Aug. 8 running of the classic Hambletonian.

The crack son of Calumet Chuck soundly whipped the best of his division in the $9,000 National Trot, pep race for the Harness Derby, at Bill Cane's Good Time Park yesterday. The purse boosted his earnings to around $32,000.

With Harry Pownall handling the reins, the bay colt romped through his first elimination heat in 2:05½ beating W. N. Reynolds' Reylard by three lengths. The second division race was taken by Octave Blake's Axomite with Lt. Col. Dunbar Bostwick's Kimberly Hanover second. In the final mile, Titan Hanover whipped Bostwick's filly by two lengths in 2:05¾.

Another undefeated horse, Leo McNamara's True Chief, chalked up his 23rd and 24th straight heat victories by taking the $3,000 National Pace for three-year-olds in 2:06¾ and 2:06¼.

Games Last Night:

Zeren and Kerly played to a tie until the game had to be called because of darkness. . . the score, 21 to 21, was due to the hitting of several of the players, who hit safely every time up. . . Jackie Zeien hit the only round tripper of the game, in the fifth inning.

Only one other game was recorded in play, in which Richard Boog and his team swept to an 8 to 3 victory over the Leonard team from the north side. . . this win puts the Boos team in the top spot in the 12-year league. . . Memler forfeited to Fish, and in a practice game, Fish took the north side, 18 to 4. . . The Lincoln Hot Shots have been undefeated all season, and last night retained their unmarred slate with a forfeit victory over Kerly of the north side. . . Potter's north side club had to forfeit to Gibson's St. Mary's team, Sproul forfeited to Knutson, and McLean forfeited to Leggett. . . in a practice game, the McLean outfit handed an 18 to 9 whipping to the Leggett outfit.

In the cross-river tournaments, the south side seems to hold the edge by quite a large margin. . . in the games played, the south side holds a good margin of victories over the "Gold Coasters".

The old-timers have added a new face to their growing list of players. . . Sgt. Lou Bevilacqua, home from the wars, who has been one of the very few big timers in baseball from Dixon, has been signed on as a catcher for the old timers. . . Earl Page, who is on his way home, should arrive in time for the last two games. . . if the old timers keep picking up servicemen for their team, they won't have many pudgy, out-of-condition players left, and probably be able to whip the high school squad hands down. . . as things stand at present, we would like to take a stab at some off-attempted winner picking, and pick the old-timers by five runs. . . that is only if they hold out for the full seven innings.

Illinois coach, Ray Eliot, who has just been named to the All-Star coaching staff, has been handing out high praise over the selection of Lt. Comdr. Bert Ingwersen to help out Tony Blazine as line coach for the Illini. . . Eliot thinks that after the war, he will have a staff that will be hard to beat anywhere.

Two Jims—(Delayed)—The field radio in the battalion command post buzzed, and the operator reported:

"G Company has made eight first downs."

A few minutes later, the journal was corrected to show:

"A touchdown for F Company."

It wasn't a football game. Instead, it was the deadly serious battle for Two Jims, 750 miles from Tokyo, the toughest job tackled by the Marine Corps in its history.

It was also Maj. Frank E. Garrelson's own way of confusing the Japanese.

Maj. Garrelson, former gridiron star, for Washington university, devised the plan during the battle for Hill 332 when Marine gains were measured in yards over a period of more than a week. A 10-yard gain was scored as a first down; 100 yards as a touchdown.

Keester Field, Miss., has 72 teams in sports competition that involves almost 600 players. Add ten up—there are 40 softball teams, ten baseball nines, and 22 volleyball sextets. That's a minimum total of 356 individual participants and many of the squads will carry extra players.

One of the most comprehensive plans for league play has been worked out and the Athletic Department, working in conjunction with various committees, will administer the

Detweiler Places Second in Big Foot Golf Invitational

Ken Detweiler, local amateur golfer, who has done some beautiful shooting on, many links around this part of the country, was in Wisconsin last Sunday in a Big Foot Country Club Invitational golf match. A large field of more than 50 players participated in the big event, which was held near Lake Geneva.

After all but two players had been eliminated, Detweiler and Capt. George Reed, of the Army Air Forces, were the two remaining. Their 36 hole play off was a close, hard-fought match all the way, and finally ended in a tie, with each man chopping out a 155 score. The local star had the match sewed up, with only a 20-inch putt necessary for the victory. He blew the putt, and the two went into the 37th hole.

Use "Sudden Death"

All extra holes are played in "sudden death", which means simply that the lowest scorer in the first hole wins.

Captain Reed teed off first with a bad slice, following which Detweiler smacked one straight down the middle. On the next stroke, however, Reed chipped onto the green within three feet of the cup. He holed out with a birdie, with Detweiler shooting a four for second place.

A standout in golf, Detweiler won the Lincoln Highway golf tournament this year, besides placing in several invitational matches. His shooting around this territory has set a fine record for other golfers to shoot for.

Hey Edges Schroeder in Country Club Match

The Dixon country club continued their weekly dinner matches last night with Dean Hey and Ralph Schroeder as captains. The Hey outfit nosed out the opposition 327 to 331, behind the shooting of Ken Detweiler, Wally Ellison, Gene Barrowman, Joe Segar, Dwight Hartzell, Al Nelson, and Eldon Myers. The Schroeder team was made up of Joe Miller, Floyd Smith, Wilson Dysart, Don Raymond, Lee Shoaf, Abe Osbourne, Joe Geidenberger and Leo Miller.

Come Sunday, the local squad meets the Sterling crew from Rock River here in Dixon. General sports chairman Joe Miller urges that all members turn out and that they be ready to play promptly at 8:30.

Cubs Favorites to Hold Pennant Lead for Rest of Season

Chicago, Aug. 1—(AP)—The super-charged Chicago Cubs, who have "Borowyd" new strength, appear favored by the schedule-makers to head the National League parade the remaining two months of the season.

The Bruins wind up one of their most successful home stands in several years today and tomorrow against the Pittsburgh Pirates, but a 21-game road trip they begin Friday should cause them no worry.

The jaunt pits them against the Cincinnati Reds whom they have trimmed 13 times in 13 starts this season, and Boston, Philadelphia, Brooklyn and New York who contributed 13 victories in 16 starts to the Cubs on their last eastern swing.

Borowy Big Help

Aided by Hank Borowy, whose acquisition from the New York Yankees continues to mystify and rattle the rest of the majors, the Cubs would have to do an unexpected tail-spin to dissipate their current six-game lead over the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers.

The World Champion Red Birds, incidentally, don't come to grips with the Cubs until Aug. 24 when they invade Wrigley Field for a three game series. Whatever the pennant scramble may resemble then, the Cubs still will have an excellent chance to make championship hay in the season-closing month of September.

In the final month, the Cubs play 24 of their 32 scheduled contests at home, including four games with the Dodgers, Sept. 15 through 17, and a pair with the Cardinals, Sept. 25 and 26.

In their current home stand, the Cubs won 16 and lost four, while a game with Brooklyn was suspended in the eighth inning with the Dodgers ahead, 10-1.

Expect Head Coach to be Named for All Stars

Chicago, Aug. 1—(AP)—A head coach was expected to be named tomorrow to direct activities of the College All-Stars who meet the Green Bay Packers, National football League champions, at Soldier Field Aug. 30. The fourth assistant coach, Ray Eliot of the University of Illinois, was named yesterday. He joins Jeff Cravath of Southern California, Howie Odell of Yale and Jim Lookabaugh of Oklahoma A. & M. on the All-Star staff.

Feller Loses First Major League Meeting

Great Lakes, Ill., Aug. 1—(AP)—Bob Feller, the former Cleveland Indian fireball star who took over management of the Great Lakes Naval Training team last spring, and did a lot of pitching for it yesterday lost his first game to a major league team when the Pittsburgh Pirates hopped on him for three runs in the tenth inning for a 3-0 victory. Feller gave up 10 hits and struck out 10.

Art Cucurullo held the sailors to five hits as they lost their fifth game in 26 starts.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

BY TED MEIER (Pitch hitting for Hugh Fullerton, Jr.)

New York, Aug. 1 (AP) The advice of baseball's new commissioner "Happy" Chandler for players to stay away from all forms of gambling seems to have fallen on deaf ears—many big leaguers still enjoy an off day by going to the race track and betting a few bucks on some nag.

CLOSE TO THE RAIL

Speaking of racing, reports from Garden State say radio broadcaster Ted Husing is making a cleanup on tips from jockeys—he had a $19,000 winner the other day as well as a $300 daily double—Steve Owen, coach of the pro football Giants, and Greasy Neale, coach of the Philadelphia Eagles, are a frequent twosome at New York tracks, but bitter rivals on the gridiron—and, by the way, what ever became of that mysterious "Lady in Red" who caused a sensation at Rockingham Park by winning $2,500 on a $25,000 show wager?

ALONG FIGHT ROW

Lou Gross, trainer of Willie Joyce, worried over the Tippy Larkin fight Friday night—"Joyce will win", Lou figures, "but I think it will be close"—Shoeman Mike Todd sitting in Promoter Mike Jacobs' office speculating on how large a gate a Ray "Sugar" Robinson vs Rocky Graziano fight would draw—Is Lt. Col. Eddie Egan, chairman of the New York Athletic Commission, and the man responsible for the "no draw" ruling for New York fights, headed for bigger things?

TODAY'S GUEST STARS

Bill Dooly, Philadelphia Record—"Larry" MacPhail was right when he said Clark Griffith wouldn't spend $100,000 for a ball player with the Queen Mary thrown in. However, to give the peso-pinchin' pupa his dues, I think he would if they also threw in Standard Oil!

CLEANING THE CUFF

Phil Weintraub, Giants' first baseman, changed jeers to cheers in less than five minutes yesterday. His error in the top of the ninth in the first game let the Boston Braves take a 3 to 2 lead—his single with the bases full in the last of the ninth won the game—The new coach of the AAF Training Command football team, Major Doug Fessenden, ex-Mountain, lives in room 4-F in a Fort Worth hotel.

Second Annual Golf Match in Canton Sept. 8-9

Canton, Ill.—(Special)—All central Illinois golfing highway will lead to the Canton Country club fairways on Sept. 8 and 9 when the leading club swingers of this section tee off in the second annual invitational Open golf tournament.

Ed Barron, chairman of the sports and pastimes committee of the local club, today announced tournament plans and said that club officials anticipated an even greater entry list than participated in last year's tournament when everyone taking part declared it a huge success.

With the prize money increased this year to $500 maturity value war bonds the Canton tourney will rank with many of the leading older competitions in this part of the middle west and many of the crack golfers of central Illinois have already contacted Bill Walton, club pro, regarding the dates of this year's matches.

The tournament will be for 27 holes with the handicappers taking the medal score of the first 18 of each amateur golfer to decide in which flight each will compete. War bonds valued at $200 will go to the winner in the professional entry list, with $75 in bonds to the runner-up and $50 in bonds to third place.

Bonds for Amateurs

First place winner in the Championship Amateur flight will receive $75 in bonds, second place $25 and third place $15 in war stamps. The low scorer in the "A" flight amateur class will win $25 with $10 going to the runner-up. The host of the "B" Flight amateur shooters will take down $15 in war stamps with $10 in stamps going to second place.

The entrance fee for each player will be $3.

Walton has outlined a work program for the next six weeks which will guarantee that the course will be in the best possible condition when the first tee shots are hit in the tournament. Entry fees can be mailed to him in care of the Canton Country club.

The members of the Wy-Lee 4-H club met at the Paw Paw community high school auditorium Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock for their sixth meeting. The regular business meeting was held with the vice-president, Miss Evelyn Hoelzer presiding in the absence of the president, Miss Elaine Schlesinger. The group gave the pledge of allegiance and the 4-H pledge followed by the secretary, Eunice Hoelzer giving her report. Miss Jacqueline Wright gave a talk entitled, "How To Save Your Clothes," which was most interesting, especially now when it is so difficult to get good quality clothes. Two demonstrations were then given by Eunice Hoelzer and Marilyn Schlesinger with each one choosing "How to Mark a Hem" as her topic for discussion. Miss Eleanor Schlesinger gave another demonstration on "How to Put in a Zipper" to close the business session. The entertainment was furnished by Mary Ann Graves and Betty Lois, which everyone enjoyed very much and everyone joined in singing several of their favorite songs. Various games and contests were then held during the social hour with Helen Gaines as the chairman and she was assisted by Corinne Schlesinger and Donna Pfeiffer. During the fun the hostesses, Betty Audry and Barbara Thompson served delicious refreshments to round out the afternoon activities. The 4-H girls sponsored a food sale, which was held Saturday morning at P. G. Avery's store and they report that it was a huge success. It was announced that their local achievement day will be held August 8, and the county achievement day will be held August 16 at Amboy. Their next regular meeting will be held August 1 and all are urged to be on hand for these always interesting meetings. This meeting will be held at the high school gym at 2:00 o'clock.

Returns to the States

The following letter has been received from Public Relations Office, Headquarters U. S. Army Forces, Pacific Ocean Area:

Pfc. Vernon L. Johnson has been returned to the continental United States from the Pacific ocean area under the Army's readjustment program.

He was processed for return at a personnel center in the Pacific ocean area where Army forces are under the command of Lt. Gen. Robert C. Richardson, Jr.

Vernon L. Johnson came into the Army on the 12th of September 1942 and has been overseas seventeen months. He was with the Ordnance and has been stationed on Maui and Oahu.

He has been awarded the Good conduct ribbon and unit citation. He is the son of Mrs. Betty Johnson of Lee, Ill., and his wife, Mrs. Orvel Johnson lives in Paw Paw and has been one of the successful grade teachers for a number of years. ## Scramble Supper

Mrs. Maud Case entertained a number of friends and relatives at her home last Wednesday evening, in honor of John Case, a most delicious scramble supper was served and the table was filled with all kinds of good things to eat. After everyone had done full justice to all of the goodies the remainder of the evening was spent in visiting. As the guests departed at a late hour they all extended their most sincere best wishes to the guest of honor wherever he may be stationed, and for his safe and speedy return.

Rehearsal Meet

The Rehearsal members met at their lodge rooms on Friday evening for their regular meeting and a large number were in attendance. The usual business meeting was held with the noble grand, Mrs. Ralph Miller, in charge of all the business details. When the business session was completed an entertaining program was presented with Mrs. Wilbur Pfeiffer and Mrs. Charles Wright in charge. A short, but amusing, playlet was given with the various characters being portrayed by Dorothy Jones, Jacqueline Wright, Donna Pfeiffer and Helen Gaines. Everyone enjoyed this a great deal and completed the program. A social hour followed with the hostesses, Mrs. Harry Case, Mrs. Claude Luce and Miss Fern Taylor serving a dainty lunch. Their next meeting will be held August 10.

Roundup of Doings in Washington for Telegraph Readers

Washington, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes said Tuesday next winter will be the coldest of the war for Americans unless enough miners are released quickly from military service to make up a prospective deficit of 37,000,000 tons of coal.

"This would be true even if we did not send a pound of bituminous coal to Europe," Ickes told the senate war investigating committee which is looking into the possibility of getting miners discharged from the armed forces.

Ickes has recommended, however, that 6,000,000 tons of coal be shipped to liberated and neutral European countries before next Jan. 1.

"If immediate steps are not taken to increase the coal supply in the liberated nations of Europe to a point that will sustain human life next winter," he cautioned the senators, "we must expect rioting, bloodshed, and the destruction of nearly all semblance of orderly government."

The senate small business committee, concerned about the effect of vast troop redeployment on food distribution, summoned Rear Adm. W. J. Carter of the Navy's Bureau of Supplies and Maj. Gen. C. A. Hardigg of the Army Quartermaster General's office.

OPA food rationing officials, mindful that thousands of soldiers and sailors are moving from Atlantic ports westward to the Pacific war, already have laid the problem. They decided that if, for instance, a troop train stopped in a community long enough for the passengers to eat up local restaurant supplies OPA would have to issue extra ration points for the sake of regular customers.

The question whether President Truman needs congressional authorization to appoint a delegate to the United Nations security council roused sharp controversy in the senate. Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the foreign relations committee thought not.

Among those who disagreed were Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich.), Taft (R-Ohio) and Millikin (R-Colo.), who voted for ratification of the United Nations Charter, and Shipstead (R-Minn.) and Langer (R-ND), the only two who voted against it.

Connally's stand won quick support, however, from Senator Lucas (D-Ill.).

"I don't believe the senate can now lay down any specific rules and regulations to guide the power of the member of the security council," Lucas asserted.

Connally asked the state department for its opinion.

With Circus Here Friday

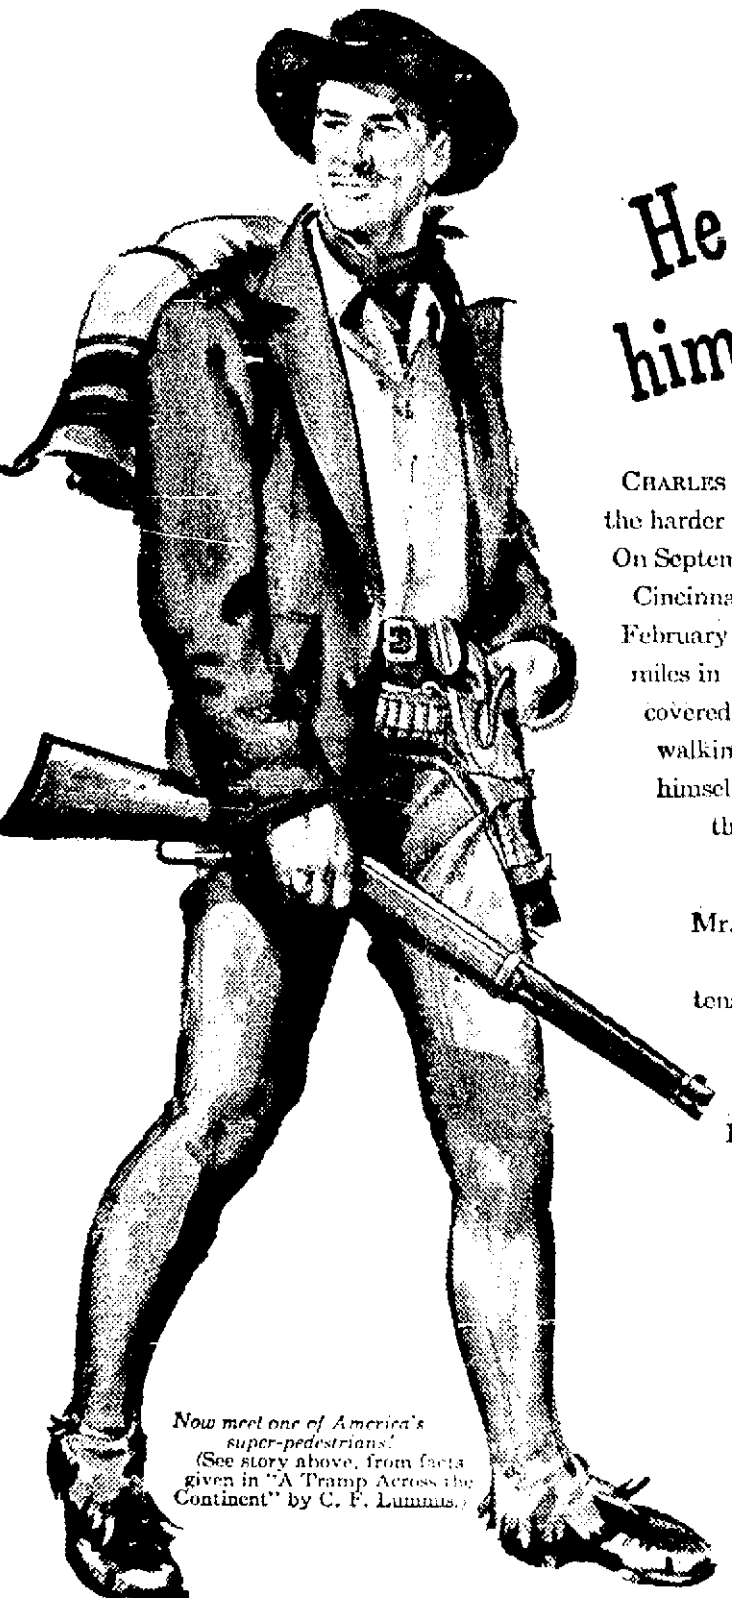

Yes, Sir, the Arthur Bros. Circus is coming to Dixon Friday, August 20 at 2:30 and 8:00 p. m. at Scholl circus grounds.

Clovers have always been the backbone of the circus, yet the business of making people laugh is really a serious one. Arthur Bros. Circus brings one of the largest contingents of buffoons ever to be seen in Dixon.

Among the many features presented this season are: Ken Maynard in person and "Tarzan," the wonder horse of motion pictures; Jorgen M. Christensen's world's famous Ciriolo, liberty horses; Cheerful Gardner's Royal Indian Elephants, featuring Moe and Joe, twin baby pachyderms; Chahcrats banded together to draft what they called a "progressive" social and economic program for introduction when congress meets again in the fall. They planned to propose increases in unemployment compensation, social security expansion, what backers call a "full employment" bill, increases in minimum wages, revision of the surplus property law, federal health grants, patents legislation and mobilization of science for national advancement.

He punished himself for fun!

CHARLES F. LUMMIS was a hard man, and the harder the going, the better he liked it. On September 12, 1884, he set out from Cincinnati on a roundabout walk that ended February 1, 1885, in Los Angeles. 3507 miles in 143 days! On his best day he covered 79 miles. He cured blisters by walking on them. He broke his arm, set it himself, then walked 30 consecutive hours through the snow-bound Rocky Mountains.

Mr. Lummis enjoyed walking great distances. Most people don't. Yet tens of thousands are walking whether they like it or not... motorists whose cars have worn out.

How about your car... is it getting the special professional attention that can check wear? Don't take chances... use your Standard Oil Dealer's Better Car Care Service now.

Fish Fete

Spencer, Neb. — (AP) — When a fish stole the hook, line, sinker and pole to which they were attached from a fisherman at nearby Spencer Lake, John Connot volunteered to retrieve it.

His fishing companion protested, but Connot swam out some 100 yards, grasped the pole and swam back to shore with the fishing tackle—and a 17-inch catfish.

"I have a strong body", explained the 36-year-old sportsman as he handed the catch over to his friend.

Hungray—and Dry

Portland, Ore. — (AP) — The hens themselves foiled a chicken thief at the home of Mrs. Lena Lund.

They flew up into the branches of a tree and out of reach.

The thief won't have anything to drink, either, for a while. He dropped his liquor permit on the floor of the pullet palace before he made his getaway.

RECLUSE SUICIDES

Galesburg, Ill., Aug. 1.—(AP)—A coroner's jury decided last night that Mrs. Maymie Burmood, 66-year-old recluse whose decomposed, nude body was found in the basement of her home Monday, died of strangulation, probably suicidal while mentally deranged.

Testimony at the inquest, said Coroner B. E. Malstrom, disclosed that Mrs. Burmood was well educated, but once had been under care in an asylum for a mental ailment.

NOT MODERN INVENTION

The machine gun is not a modern invention. A patent was issued in 1718 on such a gun, with separate chambers to fire "round bullets against Christians and square bullets against Turks."

In both name and form the modern novel derives from North- ern Italy.

FOOD ODDITY

The chief classifications of "meat," in itself a four-letter word, are all spelled with four letters: beef, pork, lamb, fowl, game, and fish.

Day By Day On the Air

by C. E. BUTTERFIELD

(Central War Time)
New York, August 18.—(AP)—Two networks will carry the ceremonies of the 38th anniversary of the Army Air Force tonight at 9:30. Three Generals: Arnold, MacArthur and Eisenhower will be on the program. Also Clark Gable, former major in the Air Forces, and Air Marshall Sir Arthur Tedder will be picked up from Hollywood and Frankfurt, Germany, respectively—by ABC and MBS.

NBC's television transmitter on the 85th floor of the Empire State Building and the antennas atop the tower of the skyscraper are still intact after the airplane disaster on Saturday.

"Report to the Nation" on Sunday at 5:30 over CBS will concern the country's food chances. A correspondent in Wisconsin will account for dairy products; there will be a Pacific Coast report on the fruit, cattle information from the southwest, Kansas City, and Chicago. CBS correspondents in Washington will report on the government's food plans for the coming year.

H. V. Kaltenborn will hold the reins tomorrow night on America's Town Meeting at 8:30 over ABC when the question "How Can Russia and America Live in Peace?" is debated by Walter Durant, William L. White, Louis Fischer and Vera Dean.

On the air tonight (Wednesday) NBC—7 Mr. and Mrs. North; 8 Wednesday With You; 9 Phil Harris quiz and music; 11:05 Danny Ryan Serenades, CBS—7 The Saints; 7:30 Dr. Christian drama; 8:30 Detect and collect; 9 Great Moments in Music; 9:30 G. I. Lafts... ABC—7:30 Fishing and Hunting; 8 Curtain Time drama; 9 Counter Spy, MBS—6:30 Mutual melodies; 7:30 Bert Wheeler comedy; 8:30 Charlie Barnet band.

Thursday shows: NBC—8 a. m. Ed East and Polly; 10 Fred Waring; 5:15 p. m. Serenade to America; 6:30 Philo Vance; 8:30 Jack Haley... CBS—8:15 a. m. Arthur Godfrey; 2:45 p. m. Land Trio; 6:30 Tracer; 8:30 Perry; 8:30 Corliss Archer... ABC—8 a. m. Breakfast Club; 10 Breakfast in Hollywood; 11 Glamour Manor; 12:15 p. m. Constance Bennett; 12:30 Chicago Varieties... MBS—9:00 a. m. Fun with Music; 12:15 p. m. Vincent Lopez; 3:30 Summertime Melodies.
